- The split between Hawongga and YUN Tse, president of the Inner Liongolian Autonomous Government (ILAG), has become more serious.* Hawongga is dissatisfied with YUN Tse's contention that the Wangyehmiao government and the Han Chinese do not diverge in their interests. In consequence of this split Hawongga has gone progressively closer to the Longolian People's Republic (LPR).
- 2. Hawongga has cultivated a delegate from the MPR to the HLAG, Miss YANG Sen-ho (标号 森門), and favors clandestine cooperation between the two governments with the aim of alienating the Mongols from the influence of the Chinese Communist Party (CCP) and enhancing the prestige of the MPR. His aim of building a greater Mongol racial nation and, specifically, of creating a closer connection with the LPR, makes him naturally sympathetic to Miss YAMG's position, with the result that there has developed a determined clandestine opposition to YUN Tse's policies within the IMAG itself.
- 3. The pricipal basis for this opposition is cultural. Since YUN is strongly pro-CCP and cannot even speak Mongol, such a clash is inovitable.
